THE INSTITUTION (FACING WEST).

A child born deaf, or becoming deaf in early infancy, has or entering school no knowledge of language. The only knowledge he has is purely sense knowledge; he has no knowledge of the significance of words—whether written, spelled on the fingers, or spokeu. The hearing child learns to speak by imitating the sounds and words he hears from the people around him, and develops a knowledge of language from his earliest years. When he arrives at school age, he is in possession of an extensive knowledge of the English language, and has received the mental development which is brought about by the acquisition and use of language. The deaf child, because of his deafness, does not learn to speak, does not acquire any knowledge of language, and misses much of the meutal development that should be going on from babyhood to the age at which school life begins. He remains in intellectual infancy until he is placed under instruction, and it is desirable that his education should be begun at as early an age as possible, while there is some definite relationship between his mental and physical growth. The greater the gap between these, the more difficult is the work of education, and the highest results are secured in the cases of children who enter school at an early age.

The acquisition of the English language is the basis of the education of the deaf. Instruction in the ordinary school subjects cannot be attempted until the pupil has sufficient language to enable the communication of the necessary ideas, and according to the degree of appreciation of language, which necessarily varies with the varying intelligence of children, is progress made in other subjects. The development of language in a congenitally deaf child has been likened to the acquisition of a foreign language by a hearing person. This, however, is not a suitable illustration. The hearing person has all his knowledge of his native language to assist him in the interpretation of the foreign; whereas the deaf child, cut off as he is by his deafness from all knowledge of the vernacular of his country, has no such assistance.

The aim of the teacher of the deaf in developing a knowledge of language in his pupils is to follow, as nearly as possible, the manner in which the little hearing child acquires his knowledge in the natural way. All our methods and systems are based on the laws governing the acquisition of language by normal children.

There are two main methods of imparting instruction to deaf children—the ORAL METHOD and the SILENT METHOD. In the former, Speech and Speech-Reading are employed, and in the latter the Manual Alphabet; Writing being common to both. The choice of method for individual children is decided from considerations of age, condition, and capability.

The ORAL METHOD seeks to give the child an intelligible speech, and the ability to read from the lips the language of every-day life. The sounds employed in our language are taught separately, in the order of increasing difficulty. As the progress of the child permits, these sounds are combined into words, of which he is taught the meaning, and the words into phrases and sentences, very simple in the early stages, but gradually and continuously expanding.

In the SILENT METHOD, the letters of the alphabet are taught on the fingers. Its aims are similar to those of the ORAL METHOD—the only difference being that Speech and Speech-Reading are not attempted, the Manual Alphabet taking their place as a means of communication and of imparting information.

Both methods abound with difficulties, which continue throughout the whole of the child's school career.

It will be gathered that the work of educating the deaf cannot be compared with that of normal children. No comparison can reasonably be made between the attainments of deaf and hearing children, but there is every prospect that if a deaf child of average intelligence be placed under efficient instruction at an early age, he will, at the end of his school career, be in possession of a satisfactory knowledge of his mother tongue, and have received such instruction in general scholastic subjects as will enable him to take his place in the outside world.

Education for the deaf is an imperative necessity, because-

- 1. It establishes a means of communication with other people by speech or finger-spelling, and writing; and removes the isolation of earlier years.
- 2. It develops in the deaf child a knowledge of his mother tongue, and provides him with materials for thought, and with the means of communicating it.
- 3. It enables him, to a greater or less degree, to avail himself of the opportunities afforded for self-culture by the literature of his country.
- 4. It develops in him principles of honour, candour and selfrespect; and gives him a better and wider outlook on life.
- 5. It enables him to compete with his hearing fellows in industrial life, and to become a self-respecting and respected citizen; and in many cases prevents him becoming a useless burden on society.

The foregoing statement will give some idea of the magnitude of the work of the education of the deaf, and of the immense issues to the child and to society involved in the question. It will be readily understood that in order to accomplish the best that can be done, a deaf child should be placed under suitable instruction at the earliest possible age. Experience shows that the best and most effective means of educating deaf children is in such an Institution as New South Wales possesses in the Sydney Institution. Parents are naturally reluctant to send their children away from home at an early age; but having regard to the tremendous issues at stake, it is almost inconceivable that they should (as unfortunately some of them do) allow false conceptions of kindness and affection to stand in the way of their child's educational advancement.

A. member of the Board for over 35 years, including 15 years as a Vice-President and 5 years as President. Died 13th January, 1914.

FIFTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

New South Wales Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind,

FOR THE YEAR ENDED ON 30th SEPTEMBER, 1914.

The Board of Directors have the honor to submit for general information the following report in regard to the affairs of the Institution for the past year.

PUPILS.

The following tabulated statement shows the number of pupils on the roll at the beginning of the year, the admissions and discharges, and the number remaining:—

	Deaf & Dumb.		Blind.		Deaf and Blind	Totals.		Grand

The Directors regret to say that the work of the school and the progress of the pupils were very much hampered at the beginning of the year by siekness. A serious epidemie of diphtheria attacked the pupils and some of the staff, and necessitated the closing of the school in October, hence the distribution of prizes which usually takes place in December had to be abandoned. Some of the patients were sent to Little Bay Hospital, while others were attended to at the Institution. Notwithstanding the serious nature of the complaint every one of the patients recovered. Much credit for this satisfactory result is, under Divine Providence, due to the skilful attention of the Hon. Medical Officers, Drs. E. Selwyn Harrison and P. Sydney Jones, and of the Matron, Mrs. Clarke, all of whom were most assiduous in the performance of their duties. It is worthy of note that not a single death has occurred in the Institution for over 35 years.

Since the re-opening of the school in January the health of the pupils, on the whole, has been very good. A few cases of illness have occurred, but no serious result has eventuated. This satisfactory state of affairs is a cause for much thankfulness.

The physical training of the children has shown steady improvement and can be classed as excellent. Organised games have been made a feature of this training, with gratifying results.

The manual work carried out by the pupils continues to be very satisfactory. Their interest in this branch of their education is very keen, and the work they turn out is a credit both to themselves and their teachers.

Some months ago Dr. George E. Rennie, Hon. Medical Inspector. examined all the children admitted since his previous inspection and re-examined all those in whom he had previously noted defects. He considered the results of this examination very satisfactory.

Our deaf-blind pupil, Alice Betteridge, continues to make most excellent progress in school, for which great eredit is due to her teacher, Miss Reid, B.A. The progress of this child is described by the Superintendent as an educational triumph. Further particulars in regard to her education will be found in the Superintendent's report.

In last year's report mention was made of the intention of the Minister for Public Instruction (the Hon. A. C. Carmichael) to include in his proposed amending Bill the necessary clauses for the compulsory attendance at school of Deaf and Blind Children. Unfortunately the Bill has not yet been submitted to Parliament, and the Directors cannot understand why there should be so much delay over this important matter. At present it rests entirely with the parents whether their deaf or blind children shall be educated or not. Unfortunately many parents fail to recognise their responsibilities in the matter, hence there are many children in the State, incapable of being educated at ordinary schools, who are permitted to grow up without any education whatever. Under the best of eircumstances these children are heavily handicapped in the struggle for existence, but without education and training their condition is pitiable in the highest degree. Once more the Directors respectfully urge upon the Government the desirability of making provision by Legislative enactment for the compulsory education and training of these unfortunate children. Their claim to a share in the educational advantages so liberally provided by Government for other and more fortunate classes of children should be recognised, for their necessities are greater. Only by education can the Blind and the Deaf be raised to intellectual and industrial competence; and the Directors fervently hope that the interest and assistance so urgently required may not be much longer withheld by the State.

FINANCIAL.

The Directors have pleasure in reporting that the general income of the Institution has been well maintained. Subscriptions for the year amount to £2570 5s 9d, an increase as compared with the previous year of £131 16s 7d.

The following legacies and donations have been received and placed to the credit of the Perpetual Subscribers' Fund:—1000 shares in Goodlet and Smith, Limited, from the estate of the late Colonel J. H. Goodlet; £1400 from the estate of the late James Wenman Ward (on account); £100 from that of the late John Richard Black; £50 from that of the late Louis Phillips; £100 from the Trustees of the "Walter and Eliza Hall" Trust; and £40 (making a total of £240) from the Trustees of the late James Bartlett's estate.

The total income on General Fund Acet. was £7116 8 7 The Expenditure, including an overdraft of £160/4/1 from the previous year, was . . 7370 7 4

Leaving a debit balance of £253 18 9

Considering the extra expenditure for increased salaries and wages, cost of living, and for necessary repairs, alterations and additions, including six open-air class rooms, the position at the end of the year may be looked upon as fairly satisfactory. The Building Fund debit balance has been increased by £138 3s 5d, making the total indebtedness £5092 9s. The Directors are very anxious to have this large liability entirely wiped out, and earnestly ask for the co-operation of the general public in this direction, so that the work of the Institution may be carried out efficiently without the anxiety inseparable from heavy liability. Special contributions towards this most laudable object will be thankfully received.

The Directors wish to express their thanks to the subscribers for the support accorded during the past year, also to all those friends who have assisted the Institution by eolleeting for it in the country districts. Some of these friends have given their services for many years, and their kindness in doing so is very highly appreciated.

BOARD OF MANAGEMENT, LADIES' VISITING COMMITTEE AND HONORARY STAFF.

It is with the deepest regret the Board has to record the death during the past year of two of its oldest and most prominent members, viz., Colonel John Hay Goodlet, J.P., on the 13th January, and Mr. James Robinson Love, on the 25th August. Colonel Goodlet became a member of the Board in 1878, a Vice-President in 1893, and, on the death of Sir Arthur Renwick in 1908, was unanimously appointed by the Directors to the office of President, which position he filled up to the time of his death. He was very assiduous in the performance of the duties of his office, and attended the meeting of the Board immediately prior to his death. Colonel Goodlet manifested his interest in this Institution in many ways. He was a subseriber to it from its initiation. His generous gifts to philanthropie and religious enterprises and his sterling charaeter as a Christian gentleman are too well known to need recapitulation, and the benefit of his liberality and example will be felt for many years to come. By his will the Institution has benefited to the extent of 1000 shares in Goodlet and Smith, Limited, a further proof, if any were needed, of his practical sympathy and generosity.

Mr. J. R. Love became a member of the Board in 1875, being appointed to that position on the retirement of his father, the late Mr. William Love, who was one of the founders of the Institution. He was appointed a Vice-President in 1899, and, until recently failing health compelled him to be absent, was one of the most regular attendants at the meetings of the Board, and his counsel and advice were at all times highly appreciated by his codirectors. His generous and kindly disposition endeared him to everyone with whom he was associated, and his sympathy for the children of this Institution was manifested in many ways.

Mr. W. H. Simpson, J.P., who had been a member of the Board sinee 1886, and a Vice-President since 1908, was appointed President in place of Colonel Goodlet, and Sir Philip Sydney Jones, who had been a Director for 19 years, was appointed a Vice-President in place of Mr. Simpson. The vacancy thus created on the Board has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Frank Grimley.

Mr. Robert Chadwiek, J.P., returned from England in December last and resumed his seat at the Board. On the death of Mr. Love, Mr. Chadwiek, who had been a Director since 1891, was appointed a Vice-President.

Mr. Arthur H. Love, son of the late Mr. James R. Love, has also accepted an invitation to become a member of the Board, and his name will be submitted for election at the Annual General Meeting.

Mrs. Cosh, a member of the Ladies' Visiting Committee, was granted 12 months' leave of absence in December, as she was about to visit England.

Mrs. J. H. Goodlet, at the invitation of the Board, has joined the Ladies' Visiting Committee.

For the valuable and disinterested services rendered by the Ladies' Committee, the Directors desire to express their sincere thanks. They maintain an efficient oversight of all the domestic arrangements, and in other ways materially assist the Directors in the management of the Institution.

The Directors have much pleasure in stating that the Honorary Officers of the Institution, one and all, have earried out their duties in a most satisfactory manner, and the warmest thanks of the Board have been awarded for their services to the following, viz.:—Dr. George E. Rennie, Hon. Consulting Physician and Hon. Medical Inspector; Dr. C. P. B. Clubbe, Hon. Consulting Surgeon; Dr. J. C. Halliday, Hon. Ophthalmic Surgeon; Dr. John B. Graham, Hon. Aural Surgeon; Dr. P. Sydney Jones and Dr. E. Selwyn Harrison, Hon. Physicians; Messrs. A. L. McCredic and Anderson, Hon. Architects; Mr. Perey J. Pratt, Hon. Solicitor; Messrs. A. G. Gabriel and Henry E. Walker, Hon. Dentists; Mrs. H. Earlam, Hon. Teacher of Fancy Needlework; and Miss Gladys McIntyre, Hon. Teacher of Elocution to the Blind.

BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

The most important additions during the past year were six open-air class rooms. These have been erected by Mr. Sell, an officer of the Institution, at a very moderate outlay, and are likely to prove a great success, both from the standpoint of the children's health (which is the first consideration) and their suitability for the proper carrying on of the work of the school.

During the Christmas vacation some of the sanitary arrangements were overhauled and are now in good condition. Other renovations and improvements were carried out at the same time, including the repair and top-dressing of all the tar-paving within the grounds of the Institution.

OFFICIAL STAFF.

The three years' engagement of the Superintendent. Mr. H. Earlam, terminated in June last. The progress of the Institution during his term of office has been great, and the Directors, having every confidence in his ability and his earnest determination to bring the educational standard of the Institution in every way up to date, are pleased to state that they have secured his services for another three years.

Two of the teachers, Mr. Palmer and Miss Banks, resigned during the year, the former accepting an appointment with a mercantile house, and the latter owing to her approaching marriage.

GENERAL.

On February 21st the Automobile Club of N.S.W. repeated their kindness of two years ago and gave the children an excellent treat. There was a good supply of cars and the pupils had a very enjoyable outing. The members of the Club were afterwards entertained at afternoon tea in the Boardroom and were warmly thanked for their kindness.

Mr. F. H. Dangar, of London, with the generosity which he has shown for many years, gave his annual treat of fruit, cake and sweets to the children in April, and, needless to say, his kindness was very much appreciated.

Our Empire Day celebration took place on May 25th. Several members of the Newtown Empire Day Celebration Committee attended, including Dr. Bohrsman, the chairman, who gave an address. The prizes for essays on Empire Day were presented to the winners. The essay of Clive Thorndike, a blind pupil, was referred to as the best one sent in by any child. This is a circumstance which reflects great credit on the Institution as well as on the boy chimself.

At the invitation of the Directors the Board of Fire Commissioners of New South Wales very kindly sent an officer to inspect and report on the fire-extinguishing appliances. The report stated that every precaution was taken by the Management to secure the safety of the children in case of an outbreak of fire, and made certain recommendations, one of which was that the Institution should be connected direct by telephone with the Newtown fire station. This and the other recommendations were carried out. An officer attends periodically at the Institution to give instruction to the staff in the use of the fire-extinguishing appliances and the best course to adopt in the event of a fire taking place. Fire drill, which was introduced by the Superintendent over two years ago, is regularly practised.

The Hon, the Minister for Public Instruction again cordially acceded to the request of the Board to send Inspectors to examine the pupils. Messrs, Beavis and Parkinson attended at the Institution for this purpose on September 23rd, 24th and 25th. Their report will be appended hereto.

After all the children who had been suffering from diphtheria had gone home in December the Institution was, by the kind permission of the Hon. the Chief Secretary, thoroughly disinfected by officers from the Board of Health, the premises being left in a perfectly sanitary condition.

THE ADULT DEAF.

In last year's report attention was called to the fact that most of the members of the Institute for the Adult Deaf had resigned for the purpose of forming an independent society of their own. In November last it was resolved to write to the Secretary of the Adult Deaf Society, inviting his Committee to meet the Board of this Institution to discuss matters, with the object of coming to an amicable understanding. An invitation was accordingly sent, but no meeting of the two bodies eventuated. A movement is now being made by some of the Adult Deaf to return to the Institute. The Directors hereby offer them a hearty welcome.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding their report the Directors desire to express their gratitude to Almighty God for the mercies and blessings of another year, and for the success that has been achieved. The Directors again thank the subscribers for the support that has been accorded, and they earnestly ask for a continuance and extension of that support for the coming year. The noble work the Institution is doing in educating and training the children of the community who are afflicted with deafness or blindness deserves the warmest encouragement and assistance of everyone who is in a position to help.

AUDITORS' CERTIFICATE.

Having examined the Books, Securities and Vouchers of the New South Wales Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, we hereby certify that we have found everything correct, and the books kept in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

SUPERINTENDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT.

12th October, 1914.

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Gentlemen,-I have pleasure in presenting my fourth Annual Report.

The period of a year covered by this Report opened under very unfortunate conditions; for the work of the school was at the time seriously disorganised by an outbreak of Diphtheria, and the trouble increased to such an extent that it was found necessary to close the schools. This caused a scrious loss of instruction, and there was the further difficulty that when school re-opened there were a number of children who from various causes remained absent for periods varying from a few weeks to several months, so that for a further three months the schools were working under exceptionally trying circumstances. During the second half of the year there has happily been no interference by sickness with school work, which has been carried on steadily and satisfactorily. Owing to the exceptional circumstances existing at the end of 1913, it was impossible for me to carry out the usual Christmas examination of the various classes, and no prizes were awarded to the children. The amount usually expended on prizes was devoted to the extension of the children's

A satisfactory number of new pupils have been received into the schools this year; but I must again draw attention to the laterage at which many of our children come under instruction. The average age of children on admission has this year been over 9 years in the case of the deaf, and over 11 years in the case of the blind. The obvious meaning of this is a fairly general loss of some of the most valuable years of education, and an added difficulty in our work. Early education is of vital importance to our special classes of children; and only when we have children at school for the full period of instruction can we hope to reach the highest possible standard of educational attainment. It is inevitable that the difficulty referred to will continue to hamper our efforts to a greater or less degree until the State insists on its blind and deaf children receiving the education to which they are entitled; and it is most regrettable that there is still no indication of active steps being taken by the Government in this matter.

There have been several changes on the teaching staff since my last Report, and no suitable candidate has yet been found to fill a vacancy that has existed in the Blind School since June. This is an illustration of the difficulty experienced in securing suitable teachers for the blind and deaf—a difficulty not by any means confined to our own school. In our own case, the conditions under which young people are received for training as teachers have been materially improved; but it is still extremely hard to obtain suitable applicants.

Possibly the most important development of the year under review has been the erection of open-air class-rooms, of which six have been built in a good situation, and at a barc cost of materials—the whole of the work having been carried out by Mr. Sell, our teacher of carpentry, assisted by senior deaf boys. The desirability of provision for open-air treatment needs no argument, but it is more particularly desirable in the cases of our children. Their physical deprivations, sometimes accompanied by other troubles of a constitutional nature, render the matter of physique a very essential one, and impose on us who have charge of them during the important years of their school life a great responsibility. The value of carrying on instruction in the open air has been demonstrated in other centres, and its value to our children in the development of health and strength must be just as great. Improved physical efficiency reflects beneficially on mental alertness and attitude; and I am looking for very valuable results from our open-air equipment.

I have alluded to the particular difficulties that have been encountered during the year, and it is therefore gratifying that I am able to report that in spite of all obstacles, there has been a steady advance in our school work. While development has not been so great as it would have been under more favourable conditions, it has, under the circumstances, been very creditable. The general language development in the Deaf School has continued, and an allround advance in the appreciation and use of language, and in the subjects of which it forms the base, is to be noted. Drawing has again improved substantially. Under the system introduced three years ago, there has been steady and continuous development, and drawing promises to become a feature of the work of our Deaf School. Manual work, too, has distinctly improved. Here again, and in physical development work, the system introduced three years ago is producing increasingly valuable results. In all these important branches of effort the teachers generally have done excellent work; and in all subjects there has been improvement and development.

Work in the Blind School has been handicapped by the loss of a teacher, which has imposed an additional strain on the remaining teachers. Notwithstanding this, excellent results have been achieved during the year, and the high standard of general work, which I have previously noted, has been maintained. Extremely good work has been done in all stages and subjects; and the success of our blind children in the Empire Day Essay competition was a testimony to their literary and general attainments. Under the careful efforts of the teachers, the singing of the children has improved. and Miss Scoular has done very good work with her pianoforte pupils. I am happy to report that the remarkable progress of Alice Betteridge, our deaf-blind child, has continued. Her knowledge of structural language is excellent, and the use she makes of both literary and colloquial forms is absolutely normal. In all her literary subjects she is rapidly advancing, and her general knowledge is wide and accurate. Her manual work is characterised by similar excellence; and in every way the child is a wonderful evidence of the possibilities of education under seemingly hopeless conditions. Her physical development continues to receive careful attention. Of the work of her teacher, Miss Reid, who holds in addition the onerous post of Senior Teacher in the Blind School, it is impossible to speak too highly. Her work with Alice has been more than excellent, and it is to her skill, resource and devotion that the child's wonderful development is very largely duc.

In the important matter of physical training, I have to report further advance, and consistently good work by all the teachers. Steady improvement in physical exercises has taken place, and much physical value is being derived from the system followed. Sport has received the attention it merits, and good work has been done in this direction. Cricket, football, swimming, basket-ball, and other games have been followed, and our deaf boys have demonstrated their ability to hold their own against the boys of other schools. The necessary abandonment of the Sports in October last was a keen disappointment to all concerned and the children have entered into the work of preparation for this year's Sports with zest and vigour. Discipline has been good throughout the year.

The School Magazine has been continued, but circumstances have for the present precluded the possibility of the type-setting being done, as formerly, by the deaf boys. I hope that it may be possible for them shortly to resume this work, which for them has a special language value.

Meetings of the teaching staff have been continued, and have been a helpful factor. Matters of professional and of general and particular educational interest have been introduced and discussed, and a pleasing feature has been that the discussions have become more general.

It is again my pleasure to report in the most favourable terms on the work of the teachers. The nature of the work they are carrying on requires particular qualities in those who are engaged in it; and in addition to their arduous teaching duties, and the strain imposed by working with our special classes of children, they are called on for supervisionary and other duties that demand much time and effort. Our teachers have cheerfully responded to every call, and their general attitude, and the manner in which they have performed their duties both in and out of school, deserves much commendation. Their interest and energy are reflected in the improvement shown by the children, and their efforts constitute a sure promise of increasingly good work in our schools. The influence and work of the experienced teachers secured from the Old Country have been very valuable, and in the case of each of the teachers thus obtained, our choice has proved excellent. The senior teachers -Mr. Byrne and Miss Beaumont in the Deaf School and Miss Reid in the Blind School-have continued to render very valuable services, and I place a very high value on the assistance they have given me. The work of the teachers generally has been of a high order, and I shall not attempt to iudividualise. There are fewer weak spots on our staff than is usually the case; and I trust that the services of all the teachers of experience now engaged in our schools may be retained for a considerable time.

The deaf girls' cookery class, under Miss E. C. Reid, has continued with success; and good progress has been made by the bootrepairing class, which is under the instruction of Mr. W. Roberts.

Mrs. Earlam has continued her voluntary work with the deaf girls in Fancy Needlework, and much improvement has been recorded. Miss Gladys McIntyre has continued her valuable work, which also is voluntary, with the blind children's Elocution class. The generous efforts of these ladies are, I am sure, as warmly appreciated by the Board as they are by myself.

The household affairs of the Institution remain under the control of Mrs. Clarke, the Matron; and the domestic staff has, under her direction, worked satisfactorily and well. Mrs. Clarke's care of the children, both in sickness and in health, is admirable. Her capabilities as a Matron are great, and her responsible duties are invariably well carried out.

In conclusion, I would ask you to accept my warm thanks for the continual consideration you have extended to me, and for your sympathetic attitude towards the many important matters it has been my duty to bring before you. The past year has been a strennous and eventful one; and I am happy to feel that, in spite of the difficulties met with, its record is a worthy one. I have every confidence for the future, for a continuance of the effort now being put forth can only result in a continuance of the progress and development that have already takeu place; and I am perfectly satisfied that, given the right conditions, our schools could and would attain high rank among similar schools in the world. I should be lacking in gratitude were I not to express my appreciation of the confidence you have reposed in me, and the full support you have given me in my efforts to promote and further the highest interests of the children in our charge and the work in which we are engaged.

I beg to remain, Gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,

HAROLD EARLAM,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

(Copy.)

NEW SOUTH WALES INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB AND THE BLIND.

Visited 23rd, 24th, and 25th September, 1914.

Last year, in consequence of the outbreak of small-pox in Sydney, and then the development of cases of diphtheria in the Institution itself, only about half the children enrolled were attending school. The combined troubles must have made serious interference with the children's progress. Fortunately this year conditions are normal.

The Institution as a home is in excellent order. Unfailing solicitude for the welfare of the children is everywhere apparent. Dormitory organization, and arrangements for provisioning and other domestic needs, continue to show improvement in those small details which mean health and comfort.

Recent building improvements have been chiefly directed towards classroom accommodation. The classrooms in the old dining-hall are being further remodelled with roof lighting; but the latest additions are six separate open-air classrooms for the deaf, erected on what was at one time portion of the garden; these need a little more protection from the weather, but are brighter and healthier than any indoor rooms could possibly be. Similar provision for the blind might be found equally advantageous.

It has been noted in previous years that the garden has ceasedto be regarded only as a means of supplying the kitchen with vegetables, but is part of the scheme of education. No material improvement, however, is shown as compared with last year. The garden is not yet properly organised for the children's use, while as an educative agency its possibilities would seem not to have been fully realised. What is required is to make more definite allotment of patches of ground to boys and girls, and then expect tangible results from each patch. Apart from its value as Nature Study, and thus a course of constant pleasure, gardening should be very helpful to the deaf as an aid to language. Experience and observation prompt to language-effort quite as much as ordinary lessons do. Further, for the boys, vegetable growing may suggest avenues of profitable occupation after school days are done. For the girls the cultivation of flowers should present special advantages. Flower borders do not take up much room, and they make many a corner gay. A bush-house for pot plants would afford still further opportunities.

There has been some increase of special sense aids, but the supply is by no means adequate; the best are those which have been made on the premises, evolved out of the teachers' needs. There is not enough free black-board space either in the classrooms or in the playground. Within the classrooms many applications of Montessori Method should be found serviceable both for the blind and the deaf. If Montessori children sometimes blindfold themselves to get clearer sense impressions from materials handled, aids making similar appeal should be helpful to the blind. Another Montessori practice should commend itself—the allotment of free periods when the children may occupy themselves in school-work of their own choosing. Out of school, too, there might be a free hour each day when supervision as such would be practically non-existent.

But any aud every method or device must result in relative failure in presence of two great initial disadvantages—(1) nonseparation of the normal children from the mentally deficient, and (2) non-application of measures for compulsory attendance.

- (1) The attempt to teach the mentally deficient, of whom the proportion seems relatively large, with those who though deaf or blind are intellectually normal, must prejudice the progress of all. The normal must wait on the sub-normal, while the latter cannot get the special and individual attention which their cases require. If separate treatment is necessary for mentally deficient children who can haar and see—and this is admitted, though still awaiting accomplishment—how much more essential is it for those deprived?
- (2) Of 12 deaf children admitted to the Institution during the current year, the average age was 9½ years; of seven blind children admitted, the average age was 11½ years. How is it possible that children who have passed their most receptive years, and probably have acquired much that needs to be unlearned, should in half the time make educational progress approximating to that which fully sensed children achieve. Yet it is in a fully sensed community that these people have to pass their lives, and the aim should be to make them as little as possible distinguishable from other folk. If compulsory education is a necessity for children who can hear and see, how much more essential is it for the deaf and the bliud?

These two most important questions should at once become the concern of the Government, the only power that can deal with them, and should be settled for all the deaf and blind children throughout the State.

A new departure has just been made in the Institution—the admission of day pupils. This must tend to accentuate the school idea as against the Institution idea. The day pupils should bring into the Institution something more of the atmosphere of the outside world, and so help to break down another barrier of distinction, while increasing independence and self-reliance.

Hereunder is a brief numerical summary of the school organisation; fuller details are in papers attached.

Deaf School.

Enrolled: 67 boys, 53 girls, 120 total; 13 classes, 11 teachers. Present: 63 boys, 50 girls, 113 total.

Blind School.

Enrolled: 19 boys, *8 girls, 27 total; 6 classes, 3 teachers. Present: 19 boys, *8 girls, 27 total.

* Including the deaf-blind pupil, Alice Betteridge.

Four special teachers, as last year, give instruction in woodwork, boot-repairing, fancy needlework and cookery.

Time-tables and lessou programmes show suitable schemes of work and have evidently been drafted with much care.

Government.

The conduct of the children both in and out of school is worthy of great praise. They are eager to please their teachers, and in all the school activities they give such willing co-operation that the best results accrue. Every child is well cared for. All are practised in useful physical exercises which are supplemented with organised games regularly given and thoroughly enjoyed. The drill movements show surprising uniformity and rhythm. The deaf boys enter into football and cricket competitions with neighbouring schools, and hold their own well. The physical training and games are perceptibly improving the stamina of the blind and giving confidence of movement; the children move about the rooms and grounds freely, quickly and without mishap.

Each child in the Institution is weighed and measured at regular intervals, so that any stoppage of physical development is readily detected; and at least once a year all are examined by visiting doctors and dentists, who ungrudgingly give their useful and entirely gratuitous services.

The School for the Deaf.

There are a few children much below the normal in mental ability, and these can only be reached by the use of signs, or by eonstant blackboard and pictorial illustration; their progress is necessarily slow, but is none the less obvious and pleasing. For the greater number of the children—those who mentally approach the normal, and whose chief defect is deafness-the use of signs is diseouraged; and for their mental development lip-reading and written questions are relied on. They are besides encouraged to speak, and their efforts show much valuable training. One boy eame casually into the Superintendent's office and asked for letters, using vocal expression which was quite intelligible. Some of the older children make attempts to say verses of poetry; and the ordinary visitor can not only follow these attempts, but make out many of the answers. to his questions. From the youngest class, language is receiving the main consideration, and the oldest children show in their written eompositions quite a pleasing vocabulary. Little attention is paid to grammar and to the formal side of language, except what is suggested by certain headings used, as "Who? Did what?" The endeavour is to encourage freedom of expression by short, direct, simple sentences; this gives a force which is frequently wanting amongst more favoured children. The spelling is on the whole snrprisingly correct; presumably the children, having to depend chiefly on sight, see no incorrect forms. Speaking generally the writing is good. Some of the older boys who have already acquired a good style should reject the pencil for the pen; while care must be taken that the writing of some of the older girls does not degenerate into scribble. More formal teaching of writing seems to be desirable. The number work does not require to reach a high standard, but within limits the pupils can do more than they are credited with. The teachers appear sometimes disappointed at the results of simple tests which are not on the usual lines. Practical tests in drawing lines of stated lengths, in judging sizes of common objects, in guessing heights, showed that more constant practice in making estimates would be advantageous. In the children's exercise books there are illustrations of much value connected with their ordinary worksome explaining number; these show good ideas of action. More evidences of nature study might be shown in the class rooms. growth of seeds, bulbs, etc, in suitable boxes, and the collection of suitable forms of animal life would lead to more constant observation and greater interest, and keep the children in close touch with seasonal developments. Progress in history is necessarily slow while the reading-power is limited; but the knowledge of Geography gained from maps is wider. More map drawing by the pupils is desirable.

Art Work.—In no one of the school activities has more progress been made than in the various forms of drawing and brushwork. In the ordinary class work, pupils are encouraged to strengthen their realization of things by means of imaginative sketches. More of this would probably follow in the leisure hours, if out-of-school facilities were afforded. Practically all the drawing and art work done in the school is from the object. Specimens in coloured chalks, pencil, brushwork—simple and in design—are not only in advance of last year's work, but are in every way creditable. The model-drawing is excellent; much attention is given to light and shade, and perhaps there is nunecessary time devoted to finish and detail.

School for the Blind.

The oral reading throughout is excellent. The tone is natural; and expression, modulation and clear enunciation are very marked. It is gratifying to note that npwards of 1000 volumes in Braille are available for the use of these blind children, and that this large collection includes not only good stories and books of information of travel, geography and history, but also some of recognised classics of our language. That these are all for real use is seen in the answering and repetitions of the children. The senior classes discussed with critical comment "Gareth and Lynette," and repeated with intelligent emphasis and clearness the finer passages. The general knowledge shown in the answering of geography, history and Scripture is decidedly good and somewhat surprising. These children are quite up-to-date in current events; they share the gencral community's interest in the dreadful war now in progress. The reasons for the war are freely criticised, the progress of the campaign is being eagerly followed, and the patriotism and loyalty of the children are in pleasing evidence. Knowledge gained from books is supplemented by that obtained from maps in relief. Mr. Haylett, though not attached to the blind school, has helped by constructing relief maps of Australia and New South Wales. These are cut out of wood; the mountains are indicated by strong cord raised on the wood, the rivers by small grooves, and the chief towns by brass-headed nails. It is hoped that Mr. Haylett's enthusiasm and skill will prove infectious, and also that the Directors of the Institution will arrange for the much-needed increase of sense aids, which at present are far too limited. The good work of the senior class is the culmination of equally good and progressive work in the lower classes. In all, the composition is free and shows a knowledge of sentence construction quite equal to the best efforts of seeing children at similar stages. Oral expression is correct following the good model of the teachers, and not suffering from contact with persons ungrammatical and slovenly in speech. The number work tested by mental exercises, gives quick and accurate results up to a satisfactory standard. Ordinary lessons are relieved by singing. At one time this was less a school subject than one of preparation for special functions. Now the children sing quite a number of pretty songs in their own classrooms, and they render them with the clear enunciation of words so noticeable in their reading, and with a sweetness of tone which gives much pleasure to the listener. To the children this singing is a great delight.

The education of Alice Betteridge, who is not only deaf but blind, is proceeding rapidly. She can read stories and books of information and is acquiring a wonderful amount of general knowledge. She knows much of the geography and history of Australia. It was a pleasure to watch the varying expression of her face as she read Ethel Turner's interesting story, "Seven Little Australians." Her written composition is superior to that of the average normal child of similar age, and shows literary merit likely to be turned to useful account in later years. She can knit as well as any girl in the school, and her delight in the work is keen. Her physical development is also healthy. Altogether she must be regarded as a triumph for Miss Reid, whose self-sacrificing efforts are, however, amply rewarded by the eager response and strong affection of her delightful pupil.

The tone and working spirit throughout this section of the school are admirable, and the training is developing mind, body and spirit in a way which must go far to make the future lives of the children useful and happy.

Manual Training.

Every afternoon is wisely devoted to drawing and varions forms of manual occupation. The good results from giving two afternoons each week to drawing, etc., have already been noted. For the deaf girls, in addition to the various forms of plain and fancy needlework, of which numerous excellent specimens were seen, there are many "side occupations," the chief of which are making of useful articles from string and cane. Knitting is done, and the efforts of the deaf girls to provide socks for the soldiers are in pleasing rivalry with those of the blind. Special fancy work for the older girls consists of stencilling and the preparation of cloths with varied fancy stitching for enshions, table centres, etc. For this the girls are indebted to Mrs. Earlam, who willingly gives up a portion of her private time each week. The work is excellent. Instruction in Cookery is regularly given.

The youngest deaf boys practice paper folding and modelling; the former is somewhat inaccurate; additional care will be well repaid with better results. The training proceeds through cardboard modelling to woodwork, in which there is a useful course lasting three years. For the first two years the boys are chiefly under the direction of the ordinary teachers and the educative side is kept in view. In the last year they have the advantage of guidance from a competent tradesman, and they are therefore able to turn out finished work of a highly creditable kind. The value of all this handiwork to children of the class now being considered can hardly be over-estimated.

The blind children make wool mats, and bags and baskets of string and cane; the girls in addition do plain sewing and knitting. Their deft fingers produce many useful articles very well made.

Staff and General Management.

It is pleasing to record that the enthusiasm and devotion of the teachers are quite as evident as in former years. All strive to give their best to their pupils, who reciprocate with prompt obedience, respectful attention, eagerness to profit by instruction, and above all affection and gratitude likely to remain with them in all their future years. It is nnnecessary to make invidious distinction, but the teachers who have record of many years of service—in one case 25 years—set an example of self-sacrifice which is emulated by their younger co-workers. A new salary scheme for the teaching staff was brought into operation on the 1st July, increasing salaries and providing for increment ranges; this was a recognition well merited. The influence of the Superintendent permeates the Institution. He is gradually effecting those reforms and developments which his wide experience and training tell him are so necessary for these deprived but not unhappy children.

Carmichael, Minister of Public Instruction, Dr. E. Selwyn Harrison, and Dr. J. C. Halliday.

His Excellency, on opening the business of the meeting, said:

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen,—It affords me very much pleasure indeed to be able to comply with the invitation which I received to preside at this Annual Meeting of the New South Wales Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind.

The Secretary read the notice convening the meeting.

Copies of the 53rd Annual Report and Balance Sheets having been distributed among the audience it was unanimously resolved that they be taken as read.

His Excellency, on rising, said:-

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen,—In moving the adoption of the Report, I do so with feelings of the deepest sympathy. I am sure that nothing could be more desirable than that the interest of the public in this deserving institution should not be allowed to flag, and that the necessary funds should be forthcoming to maintain the institution in its present state of efficiency.

I think that this institution has peculiarly strong claims upon the sympathy and liberality of the general public. In the first place—unlike other benevolent institutions—it is incapable of being abused. Many of our most deserving charitable institutions are, unfortunately, liable to be abused by unprincipled persons who take advantage of them to throw upon the public burdens which legitimately devolve upon themselves. But this institution, as I have already said, is incapable of being abused. The sole qualification is that a child should be afflicted as deaf, dumb or blind—points npon which there can be no deception. Subject to this qualification, the institution is open to all, rich and poor, in order that it may not be said that the advantages of the institution are limited to any separate class of people or to any circumscribed area. They are freely offered to all for whom they are intended. Yet, ladies and gentlemen, in view of the terrible war now being waged for the purpose of maintaining the very existence and growth of the Empire, we are bound to realise that there are so many calls being made upon the public in aid of various charities and activities, that it is not possible to expect from it the same generous response that might have been received in times of tranquility and quiet. Everyone appreciates the fart that there will be a period of stress which will be felt not alone by this admirable institution, but by every many woman and child in the British Empire. I feel, however, that the combined efforts of your able President and his officers will result in your weathering the present storm as successfully as K. of K. will emerge from his present campaign. (Loud applause.)

The President, W. H. Simpson, Esq.: Your Excellency, Ladies and Gentlemen,—I am sure we feel deeply indebted to His Excellency for the kindly and sympathetic remarks he has made in reference to the work and progress of this institution. The period covered by this Report opened under very unfortunate conditions, as the work of the school was seriously disorganised by an outbreak of diphtheria, and our heartfelt gratitude is due to the Hon. Medical Officers and the Matron of the institution, for it was through their assiduous care and attention that the trouble was brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

At present no less than one hundred and forty children are enrolled, of whom one hundred and thirteen are deaf, twenty-six are blind, and one poor little child is not only deaf, but is afflicted also with blindness. Of the twelve deaf children admitted to the institution during the current year, the average age was nine and onetwelfth years; of seven blind children admitted the average age was eleven and a quarter years. How is it possible that children who have passed their most receptive years, and who, in all probability, have acquired much that needs to be unlearned, should in half the time make educational progress approximating to that which fully sensed children achieve. Yet, ladies and gentlemen, it is in the midst of a fully sensed community that these people have to pass their lives, and the aim should be to make them as little as possible' distinguishable from other folk. Surely if compulsory education is a necessity for children who can hear and see, how much more essential it is for the deaf and the blind. I consider that these two most important questions should at once become the concern of the Government, the only power that can deal with them, and should besettled for all the deaf and blind children throughout the State.

As indicated in the Report, the children recently underwent an examination in connection with their schooling, with eminently satisfactory results. The full report of the Inspectors will be published.

The Vice-President. Sir Philip Sydney Jones: Your Excellency, Ladies and Gentlemen,—In view of the able and exhaustive manner in which the President of this institution has dealt with the Annual Report, it is scarcely necessary for me to elaborate upon his remarks; but there are one or two little matters which appealed to me while reading the Report—a document which I am sure will be earnestly perused by every person present at this meeting this afternoon.

I was particularly impressed by the fact that the proportion of deaf children greatly exceeds those who are afflicted with blindness. There was a day not so very long ago when the proportion was more nearly equal. At present there are only 26 blind children in the institution, whereas there are 113 who are afflicted with deafness. The explanation of this is to be found, I think, in the fact that the great majority of those who are deaf have been so afflicted from birth or from disease contracted in their earliest years. Another factor which has materially aided the reduction of the proportion of blind children is the wonderful progress of surgical science in connection with diseases of the eye. This science has advanced far beyond the bounds at present reached by Aural Science. Much less can be done for a deaf patient than for one suffering from disease of eyes, or rather much more can be done in the matter of the prevention of the loss of sight. This is due to the improved hygienic conditions which now prevail and, as I have said, to the greater skill of the Ophthalmic Surgeons of the day.

The institution was closed from October, 1913, until January, 1914, owing to a serious outbreak of diphtheria, and many of the children had to be sent home. It is, therefore, extremely gratifying to be able to report to you that, notwithstanding the gravity of the disease, not a single death occurred among the children; and it is still more gratifying, ladies and gentlemen, to be able to tell you that not a single death has occurred in this institution for over thirty-five years. (Applause.) I think that this fact constitutes a record, not alone for this institution, but for similar institutions throughout the world. We have one very interesting pupil, who not only suffers from the loss of sight, but also the loss of hearing. She presents the same features as the famous—I think she is famous now—Miss Helen Keller, with whose history you are, no doubt, already acquainted. She is both blind and absolutely deaf, and it is pleasing to learn that her progress has been most satisfactory.

In conclusion, ladies and gentleman, I would like to mention the accomplishment of a work which appeals to me—as an advocate for many years of the fresh air system—in the highest possible manner; I refer to the erection of six open-air classrooms. I am snre you will all agree with me that the establishment of these rooms will tend to improve the physical as well as the mental well-being of our pupils. The Report also shows that we have not been neglectful of many other important matters.

I have very much pleasure in supporting the resolution.

The motion, "That the Report be adopted, and, together with the Balance Sheets, be printed for circulation," was carried by acclamation.

The Treasurer, Fred. Phillips, Esq.: Your Excellency, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have very much pleasure in moving that the thanks of this meeting are hereby given to the Government and Parliament for the annual donation of £450 in aid of the funds of the institution.

John Wade, Esq., J.P.: Your Excellency, Ladies and Gentlemen, -In seconding the motion now before you, I may say that the Board of Directors are very thankful to the Government and the Parliament for the donation of £450 per annum; but I am sure that if the excellent work which has been performed by this institution is to besatisfactorily continued, we shall require a great deal more than that. I have been connected with this institution for more than forty years, and I am always proud to further its interests. Some time ago it was my privilege to secure admission to this institution, with its many benefits, of a poor little deaf and dumb boy. I had a great deal of trouble with his parents, who appeared content to allow the little fellow to run wild in the bush; but eventually I won them over. The boy received an education here which enabled him to secure employment in the city, in which he was able to earn no less than £3 per week. That, ladies and gentlemen, amply justified the existence of this institution. Subsequently I succeeded in getting another boy admitted here, and it is really marvellous to witness the wonderful progress he has made.

Motion carried.

Aubrey Halloran, Esq.: Your Excellency, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have very much pleasure in moving that the following gentlemen be members of the Board of Directors for the ensuing year:—President, W. H. Simpson, Esq., J.P.; Vice-Presidents, Sir Philip Sydney Jones and Robert Chadwick, Esq., J.P.; Hon. Treasurer, Fred. Phillips, Esq.; Hou. Secretary, William Rigg, Esq., J.P.; Directors (to fill vacanices), Dr. T. Storie Dixson, Frank Grimley, Esq., Arthur H. Love, Esq., John Wade, Esq., J.P. These, together with Aubrev Halloran, Esq., L.L.B., Thomas S. Holt, Esq., F. H. Reuss, Esq., John F. Rofe, Esq., Robert Vicars, Esq., William Winn, Esq., constitute the full Board of Directors for the ensning year; and that the following do constitute the Medical Staff: Hon. Consulting Physician and Hon. Medical Inspector, George E. Rennie, Esq., M.D., F.R.C.P.; Hon. Consulting Surgeon, Charles P. B. Clubbe, Esq., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.; Hon. Ophthalmic Snrgeon, J. C. Halliday, Esq., M.B., Ch.M., F.R.C.S.; Hon. Aural Surgeon, John B. Graham, Esq., M.D., M.Ch.; Hon. Physicians, P. Sydney Jones, Esq., M.B., Ch.M., and E. Selwyn Harrison, Esq., M.B., Ch.M.; Hon. Dentists, A. G. Gabriel, Esq., and Henry E. Walker, Esq.

Among the gentlemen whose names I have just read to you are many who have been tried and tested but never found wanting in the slightest degree. They have realised the responsibility of their respective offices in the fullest possible manner for many years past, and been zealous and enthusiastic in their work, and I think I am in a position to state that there is not one who would not immediately hand in his resignation if he felt that he had outlived his usefulness as far as the Board is concerned. Every gentleman on the Board is a real gennine worker in the interests of the Institution.

As regards those who have recently undertaken the responsibilities connected with the Board, I may say that the fact of their having been tried and tested in other walks of life, affords us ample evidence of their ability to assist in a very high degree the noble work carried on by this Institution. One thing we can be certain of, and it is that if this newly elected Board throws into their work of administration the same amount of energy as that which characterised the work of their predecessors, then the most satisfactory results will ensue. In some cases the fathers of the present directors occupied similar positions in connection with this Institution, and this in itself inclines us to believe that the successors of these worthy gentlemen will exert every endeavour to maintain the splendid example set for their guidance.

The splendid work done by the Hon. Secretary, Mr. William Rigg, and the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. Fred. Phillips, merits the thanks of the Board and the subscribers.

Some reference has been made to the compulsory education training of the deaf and blind, to which I listened with the deepest interest, for I am sure there is not a person present here to-day who will not agree with me when I say that we as voters in the State of New South Wales onght to be ashamed to think that we have not succeeded in even these advanced days in making compulsory the education of these poor little children. For years the Directors have striven to bring this measure forward; but it has been shelved by our legislators over and over and over again. What can be said more to our discredit as a nation than that we have allowed those who to-day we almost abhor when reading of the awful atrocities and barbarous deeds they are committing in the great war, in which we are involved, to lead us in the matter of the education of the deaf and the blind. So thoroughly have the Germans attended to the education of those, who in their country are suffering the afflictions which characterise the inmates of this Institution that it is almost impossible to find either a deaf beggar or a blind beggar in the length and breadth of their land to-day. Even a little country like Denmark has made the necessary provisions to ensure the well-being of their, shall we say, "Life's Handicaps." Yet, ladies and gentlemen, in this enlightened country, the inhabitants of which are so boastful of the advantages they enjoy, especially in the matter of the education of the young, there are to be found many deaf, dumb, and blind children running wild until they are about twelve years of age. I appeal to you whopossess both intelligence and votes to enter into a fuller realisation of the power of the latter, and to wield this power in a mighty effort to secure the effectual abolishment of this truly shameful condition of affairs, and to leave no stone unturned to obtain the establishment of the compulsory system of education for those with whom we are to-day concerned, on an absolutely sound and successful basis. Furthermore, I may say that those children who are borndeaf or born blind do not require your sympathy to the same extent as they require to be given a good education in a like manner as is given normal children, and thus to be afforded, if not equal, at any rate less unequal opportunities of fighting the great battle of life. Send them to sehool, I say, at the same age, and furnish them with the same opportunities as other children, and you will then for ever blot out the awful disgrace under which this State now lies in regard to their treatment of the deaf and blind.

In regard to our Government subsidy, I may say I was impressed by the fact that the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. Phillips, did not make a long speech about it—about a paltry £450 so graciously bestowed upon us by a wise and beneficent Government. Why, ladies and gentlemen, any little country town in New South Wales that wants a school of arts (so called), or any public institution can get the Government to creet it for them if the local member knows the right way to go about the matter. And yet we find an institution earrying on one of the noblest works it is possible for the imagination of man to coneeive—a work which could only be earried on by those who have discovered the real duties of citizenship—receives a grant of only £450 per annum. Surely, ladies and gentlemen, £10,000 for necessary new buildings, and an annual subsidy of £1000 would not be too much to set aside for the maintenance and progress of an institution of this kind. It will pay in the end, by reducing the number of paupers. When we see the extent to which the defects of these poor children can be remedied, and almost altogether removed by the admirable system of instruction which is pursued here under an up-to-date system of education, and when we see these results obtained we feel convinced that any Government may well realise that in lending its aid to this institution, it is but giving an humble example of its desire to follow in the footsteps of the Great Master of whom it is recorded that "He did all things well,. and made both the deaf to hear and the blind to see and the dumb to speak."

W. Winn, Esq.: Your Excellency, Ladies and Gentlemen.—In view of the very able manner in which Mr. Halloran has discussed the motion before you, I am sure you will admit that there is not much left for me to say upon this absorbing topic. I would remark, however, that I quite agree with what has been said, and moreover, ladies and gentlemen, I consider he has said something which will in a measure hasten the day when the institutions of this kind will receive the recognition they so richly merit. If the Government had to pay the fees deserved by the Medical Staff, mentioned in the list read by Mr. Halloran, and also the other officers who make such great sacrifices in the interests of this institution, it would cost them perhaps ten times the amount they now grant per annum. I advocate the passing of a resolution here and now to secure the largest deputation possible, and instructing it to approach the Government in connection with this matter, as soon as the war is over.

I have very much pleasure in seconding the resolution.

The motion was carried unanimously.

William Winn, Esq.: Your Excellency, Ladics and Gentlemen,—I am sure you will realise that in seconding the last motion, I find myself on such short notice ill-equipped to put a further one to the meeting and trust you will bear with me on this account.

I have very much pleasure in moving a vote of thanks to the Honorary Staff for their services during the past year; and in so doing, ladics and gentlemen, I would like to emphasise the fact that the wonderful development in the children in our care is largely due to the services of these gentlemen. In addition to those mentioned in the previous list we have Honorary Architects, an Honorary Solicitor, an Honorary Teacher of Fancy Needlework, an Honorary Teacher of Elocution, and Honorary Auditors.

You may have seen some of our children at play and I think yon will agree that they can play a very good game of cricket. (Hear, hear.) But they are also taught "cricket" in the higher sense of the term, and many other branches of knowledge necessary to an honourable and upright life, and our heartfelt gratitude is due to those who come forward and teach these dear children in this way. May God's blessing be with them and with our children. (Long and continued applause.)

F. H. Reuss, Esq.: Your Excellency, Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have very much pleasure in seconding the motion and consider it an honour to be associated with gentlemen who so kindly afford us their assistance and advice without the slightest desire for recompense. But they are recompensed in that they have the satisfaction of knowing that some part of their lives and some portion of their abilities have been devoted to the alleviation of human suffering; and a nobler work than this, ladies and gentlemen, it is impossible to conceive. Nor must it be forgotten that this institution could not be carried on if the money earned by these gentlemen who have so ungrudgingly given their services, had to be paid. (Applause.)

. The President, W. H. Simpson, Esq.: Your Excellency, it is my pleasure and privilege to thank you on behalf of the meeting for your kindness in presiding over it this afternoon. Ever since I have been on the Board we have been honoured by the presence of the Governor of our State, and on several occasions by the presence of the Governor-General of the day, and I can assure you that everyone present is seized with the feelings of deepest gratitude on account therefor.

Mr. Rigg: I have very much pleasure in seconding the vote of thanks to His Excellency. (Carried by acclamation.)

His Excellency: Mr. President, I have to thank you very sincerely for the kind terms in which you have referred to my presence here this afternoon, and you ladies and gentlemen for the hearty manner in which you responded thereto.

(The Governor and other representative gentlemen then proceeded to open the new open-air class-rooms.)

INFORMATION AND DIRECTIONS RELATIVE ADMISSION OF CHILDREN TO THE INSTITUTION.

1. Applications must be in writing, addressed to the Secretary, sent before the child is brought to the Institution, and should contain as full information as possible. The necessary forms can be obtained of the Hon. Secretary.

2. Pupils are admissible from any part of the State of New South Wales, and, under certain conditions, from other States.

3. No child deficient in intellect, subject to fits, or unable to wash and dress itself, can be considered a fit subject for admission; and no child, whose conduct or habits are deemed by the officers to be objectionable, will be allowed to remain in the Institution.

4. No child shall be admitted of an age younger than five years, nor older than twelve years, unless under special circumstances, to be decided by the Board.

5. No order will be given by the Secretary for a child's admission until the medical certificate has been obtained, and it must be understood that no children are eligible for admission until every means have been tried for restoring their sight or hearing, as the case may be.

6. Children, on entering the Institutiou, are required to have two complete suits of clothing for school or week-day wear, to be of dark colour, and a better suit for Sunday, and to be provided with clothing (see list) by their parents and friends during their residence. Each child must be provided with a box or trunk, in which to keep clothing when clean. If £5 be remitted, the Board will purchase an outfit on admission.

7. Any amounts remitted to the Secretary for the purchase of clothing will be expended under the direction of the Board of Directors.

8. School fees vary according to the circumstances of the parents; the highest fee is £40 a year. If the parents are not able to pay that amount, a smaller fee will be accepted.

9. In the case of children whose parents are unable to pay any fees, a certificate of their inability to pay must be obtained from known individuals.

10. Fees are payable in advance, and date from the time of admission.

11. Children cannot be permitted to leave the Institution unless with the direct sanction and authority of the Board of Directors.

12. In addition to the ordinary scholastic subjects, every child in the Institution receives some form of manual training, further particulars of which are given on the previous page.

13. The vacations are 6 weeks at Christmas and 3 weeks at midwinter; and it is essential that pupils should return to the Institution on the day fixed to commence duties after each vacation, "and with their clothing clean and in proper order."

(See list.)

14. Pupils are expected to remain in the Institution until they attain the age of 16 years, and except under very special circumstances, no child will be allowed to remain after attaining this age. The attention of parents is specially drawn to this in the hope that they will realise the necessity for sending their children to school at an early age. Failure to do this means depriving the children of at least a portion of their education.

15. Except under special circumstances children will only be admitted at two periods of the year, viz., in January and July.

16. It is requested that all communications be addressed to

WILLIAM RIGG, Hon. Secretary, City Road, Darlington, Sydney.

SPECIAL INFORMATION

"The object of this Institution is the education and maintenance and, as far as practicable, the advancement in life of deaf and dumb and blind children."

The Institution is open to Subscribers and other Visitors on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 2 to 4 p.m., and at other times on special order from the Honorary Secretary or a Director.

The Parents and Friends of children are admitted once a fortnight, on Thursdays, between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

The children are permitted to leave the Institution to visit their friends once a month, on special written application being made to the Honorary Secretary.

When a case of serious or infectious illness occurs while a pupil is at home, it must be reported to the Hon. Secretary, and the child must not be returned to school until all danger of infection has passed, and a medical certificate to that effect produced.

Forms and all particulars for the admission of pupils can be obtained of the Honorary Secretary.

Subscriptious and donations will be thankfully received and acknowledged by the Treasurer, the Secretary, or at the Institution

The Meetings of the Board of Directors are held on the Second Monday in each month, at 3 o'clock p.m. The Ladies' Visiting Committee meet at the Institution on the last Friday in each month, at 3 o'clock.

The cost of passages to and from the Institution must be paid by the friends of the pupils, the Board having no fund for thispurpose.

All communications to be addressed to Mr. William Rigg. Honorary Secretary, at the Institution, City Road, Darlington, Sydney.

Money orders should be made payable to the Secretary or Treasurer, at the General Post Office, Sydney.

It is highly necessary that the Parents or Friends of children should notify the Secretary of any change of residence, so that, in case of illness, or other cause, immediate communication may be made.

The Public, Subscribers, and friends of the Institution are earnestly entreated to notify the Secretary of the existence in their districts of any Deaf and Dumb or Blind Children, not under instruction, it having been a source of great regret to the Board to find that several children have passed the age of admission, simply from their not having come under the notice of some kind friends who would take the necessary steps to enable them to be brought within the advantages of the Institution.

HINTS TO PARENTS OF BLIND CHILDREN.

Remember that your child is just an ordinary child—deprived of sight—and treat him accordingly. Teach him to walk as soon as you would if he had his sight, and train him to use his limbs. He is dependent on the sense of touch (feeling) for much of the knowledge that is received by other children through the eye; and from the earliest possible time should be taught to observe shapes, sizes, weights, etc., by feeling things, and to find his way about the home and surroundings.

Do not make the mistake of imagining that because your child its blind it is necessary or kind to do almost everything for him. It is quite unnecessary, and, bearing in mind the fact that the more intelligent occupation the child has, and the more he discovers that he can do for himself, the less will he feel the deprivation of sight, it is positively unkind to bring him up in a helpless manner. Let him learn to wash and dress himself, and to attend to his other personal requirements, and to be neat and tidy. Teach him to feed himself, and be as particular over his table behaviour as you would be with a sighted child.

Teach him to walk correctly and carry himself well. Be very careful to check at the very outset any little objectionable mannerism that may show itself. Some blind children have a tendency to facial grimace, screwing the fingers into the eyes, rocking the body backward and forward, or from side to side, and if these practices are not stopped on their appearance they may develop into habits that will require years to eradicate.

Teach your child all the little nursery rhymes, fairy tales and songs that go to make childhood happy, and always endeavour that the may hear only such things as you would like him to remember.

Do not let him feel that his blindness makes him different to other children; but help him to realise that he is just the same as they, and "as good as anybody else." Let him help in all the little domestic operations in which children assist their parents.

Do not discuss his blindness in his presence—and show your sympathy for him not by bewailing the fact that he is blind, but by helping him, in ways suggested above, and in other ways that will suggest themselves to any intelligent parent, to overcome the disabilities of blindness to the highest possible degree. Do everything necessary to secure his happiness—but remember that the surest way of making him miscrable and unhappy is to "spoil" him by placing him outside any form of discipline.

As soon as he is old enough—at 5 years of age or thereabouts—send him to school. There he will be surrounded by people whose lives are devoted to the education and care of children such as he; and it is only there that he will be able to secure the education which will enable him to take his place in the world, and which will supply him with the knowledge and mental development necessary to his personal happiness and advancement.

Do not take your child for examination or treatment to any but a duly qualified medical man. Secure for him the best medical advice obtainable, but on no account go to any "doctor" who has no medical degree. There is grave risk of serious damage resulting from the interference of any unqualified person with such a delicate organ as the eye.

If you act on the lines suggested here, you will be doing much for your child. He will be brighter and happier at home, and when he comes to school he will be in a better position to benefit by the instruction given, and his educational advancement will be more rapid.

PREVENTION OF BLINDNESS.

It has been estimated that 40 per cent. of blindness is due to the disease Ophthalmia Neonatorum, or Infantile Ophthalmia. In other words, it is probable that four out of every ten blind people have lost their sight from this cause.

Ophthalmia Neonatorum is a disease which attacks the eyes of newly-born children, their eyes being infected by the mother during the birth. It is very dangerous and infectious, and unless prompt measures are taken on its appearance, it almost inevitably results in blindness. Sometimes the disease yields to treatment, but in this disease perhaps more than in any other is prevention better than cure.

The attention of parents, midwives and others is called to the following instructions, which, if invariably carried out, would do much towards minimising the amount of blindness in the world, and preserving the inestimable blessing of sight to children whose eyes are attacked by the dread disease Ophthalmia Neonatorum.

- 1. When a child is born, see that the eyes are carefully and thoroughly washed out. In lying-in institutions and in other cases where there is danger of infection, the midwives should be instructed to instil a drop of one per cent. silver nitrate solution or twenty-five per cent. Argyrol solution into the baby's eyes.
- 2. Especially in the first week or two of the child's life, carefully examine the eyes for signs of inflammation (redness of the eyes or lids, discharge, or swelling).
- 3. If there is any suggestion of Inflammation, SEND FOR THE DOCTOR. Do not wait to see if the condition of the eye becomes worse—remember that the sight of the child may be imperilled.
- 4. Previous to the doctor's arrival, wash the child's eyes in clean warm solution of Boracic Acid every quarter of an hour; using clean cotton wool, and being careful not to use the same piece of cotton wool twice, and being also careful not to touch both eyes with one piece.
- 5. OBEY THE DOCTOR'S INSTRUCTIONS IMPLICITLY. Remember that once the child's sight is destroyed, it can never be regained; and remember, too, that carelessness or failure to properly carry out the doctor's instructions may doom the child to lifelong darkness.

The question of the prevention of blindness from Ophthalmia Neonatorum is a big medical, social and political problem. Other phases of the subject may be referred to at a later date.
